CubelQ Announces the Launch of its New Anti Money Laundry Product Group Web Site

Athens, GR, July 19, 2010 - CubelQ Limited, an IT company provider of software solutions and systems for financial, banking and corporate institutions, today announces the launch of its new Anti Money Laundry – AML product group web site.

Today, there are a growing number of demands for Financial Institutions to comply with Anti Money Laundering – AML requirements set forth by government regulators. CubelQ has launched its new Anti Money Laundry - AML product group web site, located at www.aml.gr as an answer to financial industry requests for comprehensive and detailed information.

The new web site is the descendant of AML On-Line™ web site and is enriched with information on licensed AML software products such as Prime Compliance Suite™ from Prime Associates Inc. and technical documentation on AML procedures and techniques including white papers, and case studies. The web site contains also information on solution definition for the different financial industry segments such as multinational, national, regional, private, co-operative banks, and insurance securities and brokerage companies.

A big part of the site is dedicated to AML On-Line™ product which is the commercial name of a service provided by CubelQ Ltd. The service is an Internet based names filtering – database search – against specially designated nationals (SDN) lists such as OFAC, EU, UN, PEP, FEP and others. CubelQ in co-operation with Prime Associates Inc. have created AML On-Line™ service in order to provide a low cost, affordable and easily accessible way of filtering individual, company, vessel and any entity names against all major Specially Designated Nationals (SDN) Blocked Persons lists as well as against databases such as Politically Exposed Persons and Financial Fraudsters.
