CubelQ Announces the Completion of a New irForms™ Project

[EN] Athens, GR, April 2nd, 2012 - CubelQ Limited, an IT company provider of software solutions and systems for financial, banking and corporate institutions, announces the completion of a new irForms™ project.

Intelligent Remote Forms - irForms™ is a system based on Anoto™ digital pen and paper technology. The end user is a Health Care provision facility based in Athens, Greece to which irForms® On Demand was installed interfaced with the Central Patient Management System. Using irForms™ On Demand, the company will process patient data and medical tests faster, with fewer errors and more secure while an exact electronic copy of the patient form is stored as part of medical history. The system was installed and set to UAT within three months including the development of the interfaces to the Central Patient Management System and the re-design of the patient and medical test forms.

www.edms.gr CubelQ micro site provides additional information on irForms™ technology, architecture, operation and configurations.
